NOTICE OF USE OF DATA

Queen's University's collection of personal information is authorized by its Royal Charter of 1841. Personal information is collected for the purpose of admissions, registration, academic progress, and administering University programs, services and activities and will be used for those or consistent purposes. Personal information may be disclosed to and used by employees of the University who need the information in the performance of their duties. In order that applicants and students can form expectations regarding the use and disclosure of their personal information, the following are some examples of the uses and disclosures of personal information which relate to the execution of various functions of the University. Registration records, educational history and supporting documents, including records of misconduct, may be used for the adjudication of admission, progression, and graduation with respect to various programs. Such information may be transmitted to other educational institutions and partners involved in the delivery of programs offered at, with, or through Queen's, including, but not limited to, entities involved in the provision of joint degrees, programs, plans, practicums, exchanges, placements, co-op positions, and service-learning opportunities. Personal information collected in the application process may be shared with the Ontario Universities' Application Centre (OUAC) and/or with other universities and colleges across Canada in the event that any information provided to Queen's as part of the application process is determined by Queen's to be false, misleading, or otherwise deceptive, or written by a third party. Applicants may be contacted about admission opportunities other than those specifically identified by the applicant. They may also be contacted to guide the improvement of the university's services and offerings. Personal information is used to create class-lists, grade submission lists and other materials needed by employees of the University. While photographs of students are collected and intended primarily for inclusion on the University's identification cards,

NEXT STEPS

After payment...

Once you've completed your application and paid, you can expect an acknowledgement of your application very quickly.

Thank you for choosing Queen's! We have received your application.

The only thing you need to do right now is create your NetID. Your NetID will give you access to your SOLUS Student Center, where you will see the details of your application and—most importantly—your To-Do List. Your To-Do List tells you the information we need to begin to assess your application.

Let's get started! To create your NetID, you'll need your Student ID number. It's on this email, at the top. Create your Queen's NetID now. Already have a NetID? Login here.

Of course there is more to do after you apply than just creating your NetID. After you've created your NetID, make sure you visit our Next Steps page. Click on the link that applies to you, and you will see the list of Next Steps to ensure you are on track and on time.

If you have questions along the way, make sure you contact us.

Thank you for your application to Queen's University. We will email you, within 5 business days, with instructions for accessing your personal student portal known as the SOLUS Student Center. At the same time, we will give you information on any documentation required in support of your application. Queen's University communicates exclusively via email to all of its applicants. Please add @queensu.ca to your safe sender list to ensure you continue to receive important emails regarding your application.

About five days after that, you'll get a "Next Steps" email from Queen's Admissions inviting you to set up your NetID, then return to the email and click "Next Steps", (scroll down to "Applicants to Online Programs and Courses") for more information.

It's very important to both set up your NetID and then to review your "To Do" list in SOLUS, particularly since you may be required to submit a transcript or Letter of Permission to Queen's.

Confirm Acceptance

Previous

First, you have to accept to enter the program, and then, just to be thorough, we ask you to confirm that acceptance. And then... you're in! It may take up to 24 hours for the system to process the information and let you register for courses.

Accept Admission

We are pleased you have accepted admission for this program, and look forward to welcoming you! Please contact the Office of Admissions should you need any further assistance.

Once you've been accepted to the Certificate in Law...

Use your NetID and password (provided during the Certificate application process) to log into onQ, Queen's learning management system.

After logging in, you should take the Certificate Orientation course.

Registering for classes

To register for classes, you will use SOLUS, the Queen's University course management system that you used to manage the admissions process. For more information about SOLUS, see:

- The SOLUS Start Page: a broad overview of the entire SOLUS platform
- Understanding SOLUS Tutorials: for step-by-step walkthroughs of every aspect of the SOLUS platform

Again, we'll be sending more information about the registration process in the coming weeks. In the meantime, follow us on social media to learn more about the program, courses, faculty and curriculum: facebook.com/queenslawcertificate/. More information will also be available in the Certificate Orientation Course in onQ, as mentioned above.

We wish you all the best as you complete your Certificate in Law!

The screenshot shows the onQ interface for the 'Certificate in Law - Orientation' course. The top navigation bar includes the onQ logo, the course title, and icons for a QR code, email, chat, notifications, and a user profile for 'Amanda Blair' (a student). Below the navigation bar is a menu with 'Course Home', 'Content', 'Communications', and 'Assessments'. The main content area features a header image of a student looking at a laptop, with the text 'Certificate in Law - Orientation'. Below the header is a welcome message: 'Welcome, Amanda, to Queen's Certificate in Law! We've prepared a short, optional orientation to help students new to Queen's University and/or online learning. You can get started by clicking on Content at the top of this page. Have fun, and best of luck in your studies!'.
